

Method Engineer and metallic structures en UKRAINE H/F

Etranger

IOTA has built up a concrete expertise within Human Resources fields in the Energy section over the past 30 years, constantly seeking for the best match between the skills of its employees, their career choices and Customers' expectations.

Thanks to the diversity of its projects and its multiple geographical office locations, IOTA is able to offer various opportunities and support its contracted and Staff manpower around the globe.

For one of our clients, we are looking for a :

Method Engineer and metallic structures en UKRAINE H/F

Votre mission :

The method engineer will be part of the construction department of the NSC project.

The method engineer will reports to the Arch Method Manager

Duration: 2 years, expatriate

Responsability :

Management of draftsman team

Analyze and formalize the method statement and construction methods under his responsibility

Participate into cranes use and optimization of handling material and equipment

Votre Profil :

Qualifications and experience :

Language : English is mandatory, French/Russian would be a plus

- Computer Skills : Microsoft office (word, excel etc...), planning software MS project, AutoCAD
- Qualification : Confirmed engineer, steel structure methodology
- Experience : 5 years experience, issued form BYTP and VCGP.

Task Description :

- Method procedure and drawings adaptation on construction site
- Assistance for production team on site
- Writing of Method statement, procedure, list equipment, aids,
- Conception of temporary structures, of all aids structures and specific devices to built and erect the arch on site
- Handling study
- Method and production planning (detailed, production cycle)
- Main material and plant means specification
- Preparation of all documents for internal meeting, review, method review etc

Conditions d'emploi :

Location : Ukrain

Référence

13041810241

Date de publication

18/04/13

Entreprise

Iota

Région

Etranger

Ville

Secteur

Transport Et Manutention

Type de contrat

- Temps plein
- CDI

